Indian Horoscope

Heinrich, the predictions and interpretations of Indian astrology are based on precise, regularly recurring cycles which hold the meaning of the diverse heavenly bodies responsible for our earthly existence. In particular, the moon plays an important role in this. The phases of the moon, which are also known as Tithis for example, give information about important currents of energy which decisively influence our thinking and emotions.

It is the Indian belief that we are embedded in a comprehensive system of cosmic laws which mold our existence and are able to explain our diverse feelings and judgments. There are many phenomena and manifestations that can't be explained with conventional rules of logic and rationality. We will only be able to understand them when we are willing to see them in context with the overall picture. Accordingly, the separating elements and the seemingly perceptible differences are not at the forefront of Indian astrology. Rather, it is in its unveiling and revelations that the Indian horoscope is more concerned with showing the common ground and similarities that were previously hidden from us.

You don't shrink away from unusual challenges or tasks as it is in your nature to be bold and courageous. Generally speaking, you don't make the mistake of plunging blindly into adventures - you are willing to weigh up matters more than others would and you check thoroughly before you start anything whether or not a commitment to the affair in question really is a good idea.

Once a positive decision has been reached one can be sure that you will go about persistently and untiringly to manage the work that lies before you. Your remarkable energy levels mean that even unpleasant side-effects or unforeseen difficulties cannot throw you off track. Heinrich, you know exactly what it is that you want to accomplish and therefore, in your view, turning back or giving up are absolutely out of the question.

You have the ability to spur those around you on to extraordinary achievements with your decisive action and your positive charisma and you are able to represent your ideas convincingly. Basically, when working with your fellow men you always take care that the interests of all those involved are protected - egotistical soloists are therefore not your line.

The Day of the Moon - Monday

Your sentimentality and your distinctive capacity to understand make you a sensitive person who is also aware of stimuli and impressions which remain hidden from most of your fellow men. It generally isn't difficult for you, therefore, to put yourself in the position of those around you. At the same time your tactfulness and your kindness mean that people know to respect your valuable advice and tips. Heinrich, you don't make the mistake of trying too hard to make yourself the center of attention and are much more concerned with giving everyone in your surroundings the freedom of movement they require. Because of your understanding and tolerant manner you fundamentally don't have any difficulty in creating an atmosphere of harmony and balance. Being over sensitive, however, can lead to unexpected and unpleasant mood-swings. You therefore shouldn't be too dependent on outside influences but instead should emphasize your steadfastness more strongly.

In this way you will be successful in overcoming periods of inner uncertainty and developing your dependability and calculability to a higher degree. This positive change in your behavior will soon be noticed by those around you and be ultimately responsible for an improvement in the relationship you have with your fellow men.

The eleventh Tithi

You achieve remarkable success through your persistent and progressive action and at the same time you don't make the mistake of being dazzled too much by materialistic products or status symbols. In your thoughts and actions you are aware that aside from the setting of fundamental goals there is also a higher intellectual region that can't be assigned to any earthly categories.

Correspondingly, you always attach great importance to broadening your consciousness and to shedding light on and comprehending backgrounds which are currently hidden. Heinrich, you are aware of your responsibility in this world and will scarcely neglect the needs of your fellow men. You have no problem with letting others share in your insight and knowledge as it is clear to you that understanding of the true interrelationships can only be developed to be truly effective under the condition that it is made available to as many people as possible.

You can be a valuable advisor or teacher for many of your fellow men as you open yourself up to those around you and because you are able to direct your advice and suggestions to where they are actually needed. The positive response you experience from doing this is confirmation that you are on the right track.

Your Moon House: Purva- Schada

You endeavor to create workable and lasting structures to lend the necessary security and stability to your further actions. This mature attitude stems from a desire to establish a reliable, material foundation which will take on the worries of future challenges.

This character trait is responsible for you often concentrating too much on economic and financial interests and not finding enough time to further develop yourself in intellectual and spiritual areas. On the one hand, this predisposition makes you a predictable and reliable person on the other, a certain inflexibility results from it. All too often you stick to conventional and proven ways because you shy away from venturing into unfamiliar territory.

In time, this rigid fixation can cause inner discontentment and you will even start to feel yourself that you aren't developing your inherent abilities optimally. By opening yourself up to new experiences and developing a higher level of courage and a willingness to take high risks you will be able to overcome this unsatisfactory state of affairs. Heinrich, you will then discover that it is definitely advantageous to leave the narrow paths of the past behind and to break new ground.
